Red, white & new!

The new 'Relish Advantage' clover mix - see red & white and relish the gains.

Two of New Zealand's most popular and productive clovers now in one convenient pack.

Relish Advantage Mix is the ultimate in liveweight gain for all classes of sheep and deer providing a high performance pasture system that can last 2-3 years. Also makes very high quality silage or hay. This powerful combination is now readily available in a convenient 15 kg pack (1 ha).

Standout points from current red clover research and experience in sheep systems:

- Very high average lamb weaning weights with a high percentage sold prime at weaning
- Ewe liveweights at weaning higher than from ewes on ryegrass pasture
- High summer liveweight gain potential
- High dressing out percentages in lambs
- Significant build up of soil nitrogen that can be used to enhance future cropping or pastoral options

Key tips

- Rotational graze to maximise growth potential
- Graze from 20-25 cm to 4 cm during the growing season
- Spring growth is very rapid – prepare to utilise/increase stocking rate accordingly
- Also utilise with high margin/priority stock
- Never allow red clover to build up too much stem as this will reduce quality for the grazing animal and if too advanced will reduce silage quality
- Hard graze in autumn to clean up residual stems and reduce clover cover that may increase disease presence in winter
- Monitor paddocks with soil testing and apply P, K and S as required to maximise red clover growth potential

Grasslands®

Relish

Red Clover

“Step change in red clover genetics”

- A major improvement in persistence within grazing systems
- High yield potential over time
- Semi-prostrate growth habit
- Low levels of formononetin (oestrogen)

Grasslands®

Tribute

White Clover

“New Zealand’s largest selling white clover”

- Medium to large-leaved white clover
- High stolon density/leaf size ratio
- Improved out of season production
- Shown to be tolerant to clover root weevil
